COLLEGE LIFE CONTRASTED

Czecho-Slovakian Students Endure Many Hardships To Receive an Education. Swedish Students Life is One of Freedom and Merry Making.

Students in Czecho-Slovakia at the University of Prague have been fighting against heavy odds. A group of American students give the impression of health, vigor, humor and an advertisement of the best and latest styles in clothing. Not so the students of Czecho-Slovakia. Their clothing is not of the latest cut but rather anything they can find to wear. The more usual dress is parts of old uniforms a constant reminder of the late war. Student life has come to be spelled with a capital "S" in Czecho-Slovakia, when in spite of starvation, disease, hardships and lack of buildings and equipment, students and faculty have gone determinedly on in their quest for knowledge.

The enrollment in the University of Prague is at present about 30,000. That number includes 5,000 students at the German University, about 3,000 Russians and Ukrainians at the recently formed free university for refugee students, and 3,000 from Jugoslavia.

Prague is the third oldest university in the world. Today she must hold her arms wide else thousands, that need to be European leaders, would go untrained.

The greatest need of the students is for textbooks. Imagine yourself studying for a difficult technical course at a university whose language you scarcely spoke and studying a textbook in still a third language.

The students erected dormitories for about 700 students by their own hands. The girls do the work in the kitchens, the boys did the erecting of the building. In this way they earned a right to a place in the "Student Colony." Four hours of labor entitles one to a free meal. Only after 750 hours work could one earn the right to live in the dormitories.

Little time is left for athletics, and less reserve strength even if they could afford the time. Volley ball affords a game not too strenuous but giving the touch of play and sport that these students need to lighten their load.

All refugee and "stranger" students are given a place at Prague. The student believes racial hatreds and national differences can be tempered, and he, it is that believes in a world for peace and individuals who count for something.

If an American student went to the Swedish universities of Upsala or Lund he would find personal liberty, quaint customs, and surprises that if he should try in America would lead to speedy expulsion. Yet when examination day comes the American student would be amazed at the amount of knowledge the Swedish student had received.

The University of Upsala was founded in 1477, and the University of Lund in 1688. The instruction falls under the four faculties of Theology, Law, Medicine and Philosophy. A student enrolls in one of these schools. He then attends lectures and takes notes as he feels inclined. During fixed periods of the year professors give examinations to those who desire them. These examinations are oral, given in the professor's home, and usually last two hours. There is only one examination for each subject.

There are no secret societies at Swedish Universities, no dramatic clubs, no inter-collegiate debates, nor oratorical contests. The students do divide themselves into nations. These take the place of fraternities.

Music plays a large part in Swedish student life. From Sweden come our greatest singers of the world, Jenny Lind, Christine Nilsson, and some of the primadonnas of the Metropolitan Opera of today.

The greatest student festival comes on April 30 and May 1. This marks the end of winter and a two days carnival and merry making is held.

Athletics never encroach upon studies. They consist of gymnastics, fencing, swimming, track athletics and soccer. These are pursued with enthusiasm but not to an extreme.

Upsala and Lund have no college yell but a festive song is sung on all occasions, this epitomizes the true expression of the Swedish college spirit in the first two lines.

"Sing the happy life of the student! Let us rejoice in the springtime of youth."

Bearcats Lose To Hillyards

The Bearcat Basketball team was defeated in their first game of the season by the nationally famous Hillyards team of St. Joseph. The final score was 44-19.

The score is not a true indication of the thrilling game which was witnessed by a large crowd from Savannah and St. Joseph. The college team which had begun practice only a few days before the game fought a creditable battle, but were downed by a bigger, more experienced and better conditioned team of veteran players.

Two members of the college team Aldrich and Pierpoint were injured in the first half of the game, and on this account coach Lawrence used an entirely new team in the second half. Aldrich will probably be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Twenty men were used in the game, the lineup follows:

BEARCATS (19)
Pierpoint, f	PG	FT
Peoples, f	1	1
Aldrich, f	3	0
Culp, g	1	0
Smith, g	0	0
Sub: Joy, g	3	0
Blomfield, c	0	0
Cartwright, g	0	0
Hood, f	0	0
Houston, f	0	0

HILLYARDS (44)
Rody, f	PG	FT
Reif, f	6	0
Wulf, c	1	2
Mosby, g	3	0
Harbuck, f	2	0
Newlin, f	2	1

Giles of St. Joseph, referee. The members of the two teams were given a banquet after the game by the Savannah board of education. Victors and losers gathered around the peace table and voted unanimously on Savannah's hospitality.

Christmas Party at S. T. C. to Be Dec. 18

The annual S. T. C. Christmas party will be held in the College library Thursday evening, December 18, at 7:30 o'clock. This is an all-school affair, hence it will not be counted as a date.

Plans for the evening's entertainment are now being formulated by the various committees. These plans include a program of music and readings, a Christmas-tree with gifts for all, music by the orchestra and the singing of Christmas carols. A jolly good time is in store for all who attend. Remember the date—Thursday evening, December 18.

St. Patrick's Day Carnival is to be the nature of this year's Junior Frolic. This entertainment is to be run in an entirely different manner than from that of last year. The two main features will be the Follies and the dance. There will be other concessions but there will be no "sells," as here to fore. Every show will present a high class entertainment and run on a guarantee basis. A number of college organizations have already reserved concession rights and it is expected that there will be ten to fifteen more within the next few days. Any organization in the college can obtain a concession by seeing Floyd Cook, the manager of the Carnival. Make all your plans to hold March 17 open for the Carnival.

The photo play, "The Covered Wagon" was shown at the college auditorium December 11, 12 and 13. This picture was filmed from Emerson Hough's book. The film shows the hardships and dangers that were endured by the pioneers on their trail across the country to Oregon. All this is woven together with the love story of Will Banion and Molly Wingate.

After seeing this picture, Americans of today can better appreciate the courage and perseverance of the early pioneers who blazed the trail for the America of today.

Miss Dykes in Charge of Green and White

Beginning the first of the year Miss Dykes will become instructor of the class in Journalism and will have charge of the Green and White Courier. She began her duties with this issue by assuming entire responsibility for the articles which the staff prepared in compliment to Miss Winn.

MISS WINN TO LEAVE S. T. C.

Head of the English Department to Become the Wife of Mr. M. E. Ford Dec. 30. Has Had Charge of Green and White Courier Since 1917.

Miss Beatrix Winn, head of the English department of S. T. C. has resigned her position and will become the wife of Mr. M. E. Ford, a prominent attorney of Maryville, and senator-elect from this district.

Miss Winn's home is at Clinton, Mo., but her parents formerly lived in Independence, Mo., from which high school she graduated with honors, receiving a scholarship from the University of Missouri. She completed her work there, and received the B. S. and A. B. degrees. Work for her master's degree was completed at Columbia University, New York. Last year she was a graduate student in English at Bedford College and King's College at the University of London.

While in Europe, she traveled on the continent, visiting the countries of Italy, France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, and Switzerland.

Miss Winn came to S. T. C. in 1912, and has been connected with the college ever since that time. She first taught English and physical education. She also coached the girls' basketball team. When the departments increased in size so that it was necessary to employ additional instructors she gave her entire time to the work of the English department.

Since 1917, Miss Winn has had charge of the Green and White Courier. For the last four years, she has been secretary of the Northwest Missouri Press Association. At times she has appeared on the association programs.

During the years that Miss Winn has been at S. T. C. she has been the business adviser of the senior class, with the exception of two years, when she was on leave of absence from the college to study at Columbia University and at the University of London.

She has served not only the college but the entire district, having conducted extension classes in various places.

Since her return from Europe she has given many addresses to the various women's clubs in this section of the state.

Miss Winn will spend the holidays in Chicago with her sister, Mrs. K. E. Major, at which time and in whose home a reunion of the Winn family will be held. The wedding will take place December 30 at the Major home, when she will become the bride of Mr. M. E. Ford of Maryville.

After spending a short time in Chicago and Saint Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Ford will go to Jefferson City where Mr. Ford will attend to his senatorial duties in the Missouri State Legislature. At the close of the legislative session, they will return to Maryville to make their home.

To her who has lifted the Courier from a struggling monthly publication to one of the leading college weekly newspapers; to her whom we hold in esteem as a fellow associate, teacher, adviser and friend;—to OUR MISS WINN, we dedicate this issue of the Green and White Courier.

The Staff.

Benediction.

Who is the prettiest girl in S. T. C.? The first annual beauty contest is to be held this year under the auspices of the Tower Staff. Any one may submit one or more pictures of the girl he thinks is the prettiest. There are no "strings" of any kind on this offer. The only requirements are that the person whose picture is submitted must be at least 4 by 5, and they must be in the hands of the business manager of the Tower, as soon as school starts after the Christmas vacation.

A prominent St. Joseph photographer and artist is to be the judge, and he is to pick by number, the prettiest picture submitted. No name is to be published except the winner. This looks like one page for the Hall of Fame, doesn't it?

Saturday, December 13, the executive committee of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association met at the Teachers College. Those in attendance were C. D. Hooper of Andrew County, Chairman of the committee; Eula Morrison, instructor in social science and cooking of Kearney High School; Edward Adams, Superintendent of Schools at Tarkio; U. L. Riley, President of the Association and Dr. Fred Keller of the Teachers College.

Final Campaign For Tower Sale

The second subscription campaign for the 1925 Tower is now in progress, and it has been announced that students who have enrolled for the winter quarter for the first time this year and those who were here during the fall quarter and who have as yet not had their picture taken can do so THIS week. One panel for each class is being held over until the first of the year,—the rest of the panels have been sent to the engraver.

The 1925 Tower is to have a new cover design that is to be standardized. There will be 176 pages, and special inserts. A new color scheme is to be used throughout the book and two kinds of stock are to be used. There are to be six colored inserts and a 16 page view section in sepia tint. The Tower Queen pictures are to be in sepia, also, according to reports from the staff there is a better, and bigger variety of class pictures. Action pictures are to be an added feature in the athletic department of the book. There is a special page to be used by the class having the nearest perfect score in annual sales. The calendar is to have several new features. The Hall of Fame, the Stroller, and the Autograph section are new departments to be inaugurated in the 1925 Tower.

Last year's Tower cost $2850. The 1925 Tower will cost approximately $500 more than the one last year, yet the price of the annual remains the same. This means that there must be at least 170 more Towers sold this year than last.

Much of the work is already in the hands of the engraver. The art craft Engraving Co., St. Joseph has the engraving contract and the Schooley Stationery and Printing Company, of Kansas City has the printing contract. The 1925 Tower will be ready for delivery about May 15. Buy yours now. This is the last call.

Miss Teagarden talked on "Food For Children" to the Parent Teachers Association at Daleview Wednesday, December 3.

Seniors Give Farewell Party For Miss Winn

Miss Winn was the guest of honor at a delightful party given by Lou Nutz, Friday December 12, at the Maryville Country Club; she also entertained the members of the Senior class. In behalf of the Seniors and as evidences of their appreciation for their sponsor, who is leaving to be married December 30, Garland Miller Senior President, presented Miss Winn with an electric waffle iron and an electric grill.

Basel Fraser was found to have the high score after an exciting game of SENIOR, played progressively in the card room. Music and dancing were later enjoyed in the spacious club room.

A green and white color scheme was carried out in the refreshments and also in the guest favors which were clever novelty pencils.

Miss Nutz was assisted in entertaining by Anna Houston, Pearl Dilley, Esther Fordyce, Lucille Corrin, Gladys New, Blanche Erickson, Albert Hamilton, Lloyd DeMoss, F. E. Cummins and Leslie Holcomb.

About sixty guests were present and everyone declared the party to have been a memorable event in the history of the Senior class.

Sam England, well known S. T. C. gridster, was elected to head the 1925 Bearcat football eleven at the banquet Monday, December 8, given by the Chamber of Commerce in honor of the Bearcats and Spoofhounds. Charles Kissingner will lead the High School grid men next season.

One hundred and twenty-five persons attended the banquet. Dr. Jesse Miller was toast master. Talks were given by President Uel W. Lamkin, L. E. Ziegler, and the Coaches H. Frank Lawrence, Paul R. Jones and Harold Ebert.

Entertainment throughout the evening was furnished by the High School orchestra, assisted by Miss Boyle of the college; and four high school boys in black face acts.

Miss Dykes who has been confined to the St. Francis Hospital for the past two weeks with an attack of neuritis was able to return to her work last Monday.

Miss Anthony and Miss Teagarden are both on the State Course of Study Committee. Miss Anthony for Applied Art in Home Economics, Miss Teagarden, for Foods.

Merle Sealeman was elected Senior Student Council representative at the class meeting December 12.

Dr. Keller addressed a community meeting at Turner, Friday evening, December 11.

The new courses that are being offered in the physical education department this quarter, Clogs and Jigs 79c and Natural Dancing 81c, are progressing nicely under the direction of Miss Ruth Bass. The enrollment in both of these classes is unusually large.

This year in the M. I. A. A. League Maryville debates Springfield at Cape Girardeau and Kirksville at Warrensburg. At Cape Girardeau Maryville will have the affirmative side of the question while at Warrensburg they will argue the negative.

The Kittycats will open their basketball season this year in a game with the Missouri Wesleyan team next Wednesday night at the Maryville High School gymnasium. The girls began practice last Monday afternoon under the direction of Miss Manley of the women's physical education department.

Miss Manley says that there is an abundance of good material this year and that the girls are so evenly matched that it will be difficult to choose an outstanding six to start the game. This first group of six may not be the last group chosen during the season. "The spirit of the girls seems to be excellent," Miss Manley says. "They are not working individually but want the best ones to play."

The practice last week was fast and spirited. However there has not been very even teamwork because of the short time the girls have been practicing together and because no definite teams have been chosen.

The squad is made up of Dorothy Dow, Lorepe Bruckner, Pauline Manchester, Mabel, Evelyn and Luita Margaret Raines, Fern Murray, Juanda Hawkins, Doris Schuler, Willetta Todd, Dolly Rea Logan, Mildred New, Myrtle Shreve, Roberta Cook, Marie Chandler, Myrtle Argo and Myrtle Alexander. Margaret McMurry and Rosella Froman are assisting the squad in practice.

The Kittycats are expecting a hard game with the Missouri Wesleyan sextette because the Cameron girls have been practicing since the first of the school year. Miss Manley, however, states that she believes that the good material and the support of the college will overcome Cameron's advantage of a long season of practice.

KITTYCATS TO PLAY CAMERON

The First Game of the Season is to be Played With Missouri Wesleyan Team Wednesday Night, December 17 in the High School Gymnasium.

The Kittycats will open their basketball season this year in a game with the Missouri Wesleyan team next Wednesday night at the Maryville High School gymnasium. The girls began practice last Monday afternoon under the direction of Miss Manley of the women's physical education department.

This quarter Miss Dykes is trying in her classes in English 16, a scheme, which is practiced in the English schools.

In the English schools students at the time of their enrollment designate themselves either as "honor" or "pass" students. The "honor" students are those who maintain an "S" or "E" standing. The "pass" students are those whose standard is lower. The two grades are given different work according to their abilities. However if a student who has enrolled in the "honor" class fails to maintain his "S" or "E" standing, instead of receiving a lower grade he is given no credit whatsoever for his work.

This is the scheme that Miss Dykes is trying in her English 16 classes, with the exception that if any of the "honor" students do fail to make the grade necessary for that standard they will not be deprived of their credit but will merely be given a lower grade.

In the two English 16 classes, 47 chose to be "honor" students and 40 chose to be "pass" students.

It has been decided that the 1925 question for debate in the M. I. A. A. League will be, "Resolved: That by a two-thirds majority the United States Congress should be able to pass a law over the veto of the Supreme Court."

This question was selected by the coaches of the debate teams of the five State Teachers Colleges from a list submitted by them to the Chairman of the M. I. A. A. The date for Cape Girardeau's debate with Warrensburg at Maryville has not yet been definitely set but it will be either April 17, or May 8.

This year in the M. I. A. A. League Maryville debates Springfield at Cape Girardeau and Kirksville at Warrensburg. At Cape Girardeau Maryville will have the affirmative side of the question while at Warrensburg they will argue the negative.

They Have Called Her Friend

It is indeed a rare pleasure to be called upon to express in words, a tribute to one who has endeared herself to students and faculty as has Miss Winn during the years she has been in the English department of the college. While her friends wish for her the very greatest happiness that can come to her, it is with true regret that they see her sever her connection with S. T. C. They feel that the loss to the college is great.

A mere cataloging of her duties—as a teacher of English, manager of the Green and White Courier, adviser to the senior class, extension worker in the district—or a mere listing of her virtues: dependability, fairness in judgment, charming personality—but the list grows—will not suffice to explain why her going away is felt as so keen a loss. She has become a part of the very life of the institution itself.

During the years she has been here she given herself wholeheartedly to the school and to the students. Her influence has gone far and wide. Students and alumni by the hundreds look with gratitude to her as a great stimulus in their careers.

As a teacher, her excellent preparation and her ability to impart knowledge to those who seek it have made her classes popular with the students. Her classes have always been looked upon with pleasure because she has inspired, never driven, her students to work; her assignment have always been definite; her organization perfect. With her keen appreciation for literature and her wide experience from reading and travel she has been able to make literature a beautiful and living thing to those who have been fortunate enough to sit in her classes.

Perhaps one can not better sum up the place Miss Winn holds in the hearts of those who know her than to say that they call her a true friend, for,

"A true friend is an inspiration as well as a comfort, not so much by what he does for us as by what he incites us to do and be, because of his example, his deeds, and his ideals."

—A Graduate of S. T. C.

COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this our College by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will never and obey the College laws, and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the students' sense of duty. We will transmit this College to those who come after us greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

To all of those who have been, and to all of those who are students of S. T. C.—to the teachers in the field, and the faculty of S. T. C., the college extends the greetings of the Christmas season, and expresses the wish for a profitable and enjoyable period during the coming new year.

Leslie G. Somerville, County Superintendent of Schools of Nodaway County has been conducting a series of demonstration schools at various places in the county. These schools were attended by the teachers of the neighboring schools. Demonstration lessons were conducted by various teachers, members of the college faculty; F. A. Thompson, Rural School Inspector, and Mr. Somerville, himself. Each day the patrons of the district served lunch at the schoolhouse for the visitors. Mr. Somerville is well pleased with both the attendance and the co-operation shown by the teachers. The places at which the schools were conducted are: Emaculate, at Conception, Quitman, Champlain, Hedge College, Glendale, and Arkoe. Members of the College faculty attending are: Miss Keith, Mr. Phillips and Dr. Keller.

Each quarter always introduces a new group of cubs eager for the taste of printer's ink, and an acquaintance with the much talk about type lice. The winter quarter is no exception. A number of students for the past two weeks have been studying the fundamentals of news gathering. As cubs, through their work in the journalism class, they have been gaining the necessary knowledge which will enable them to contribute a reporter's part in the publishing of the next issue of the Courier.

The advanced journalism students, under the direction of the faculty advisor, have contributed all of the articles for this and last weeks' issues of the Courier. After the Christmas vacation, both the cubs and the advanced students will be on the trail for news.

Miss Margaret Franken, high school supervisor, with the aid of faculty representatives from each department of the college has organized an efficient corps of fourteen practice teachers for the winter quarter.

The students who are acting as practice teachers have met the requirements of sixty college hours, twelve of which are in Education, two and one half hours in methods and seven hours in the course which they teach. The practice teachers receive two and one half hours credit for their service during the quarter.

Many people are of the opinion that practice teaching is an easy method of obtaining credit, but it requires considerable hard work and earnest effort. Each practice teacher is required to attend a weekly conference of teachers. At these meetings such subjects as "methods of study," "how to make assignments," "questioning," "projects," "socialized recitation" and "class room management" are discussed. Every teacher is required to submit a brief lesson plan to the supervisor daily. The supervisor has asked that every teacher co-operate with the English department in corrective work in writing, spelling and English.

The practice teachers and the courses which they teach are listed below:

Ray Bloomfield, Phy. Ed.; Harold Neal, Hist. Mod. Europe; Harry Nelson, Physics; Marie Turner, English IIB; Lorene Hartley, Geometry; Fauna Robertson, English IIB; Eul Ramsey, Geometry; Lou Mitz, Art; Anna Houston, Sewing; Denton Peoples, Economics; Blanche Erickson, Algebra IB.

Two teachers are to be supplied, one in Biology and the other in Agriculture.

"Come Out of the Kitchen," a comedy in three acts, written by A. E. Thomas, will be presented by the Dramatics Club, soon. This is the play in which Ruth Chatterton made her great stage success in New York a few years ago. This will be given for the benefit of the Tower.

Two other plays that are to be given by the Dramatic Club in the very near future are: "The Rescue" and "The Brink of Silence." The latter of these two was written by Esther E. Galbraith as an assignment to a play writing group under the direction of the Drama League Players of Washington. Each member was to develop the Enoch Arden situation in some new and original form. "The Brink of Silence" was chosen as the best of the group submitted, and it was produced later by the Drama League Players with great success.

There are 160 students in the Dramatics Club.

A Duo-Art Concert, given through the courtesy of the Jenkins Music Company of Kansas City, Mo., was held at the College Auditorium Wednesday evening, December 10. Dr. D. J. Thomas, pianist of Maryville and Miss Lillian Sellers, Soprano of Kansas City appeared in joint recital.

The following delightful program was given: "Moonlight Sonata" "Sonata in Pathétique" by Dr. Thomas, "All Love But a Day," Miss Sellers, Duo-Art accompaniment of Charles Gilbert Moss.

"The Larks," "Valse Brillante" "Rondo Capriccioso" Dr. Thomas.

"Morning," "Danny Boy," Miss Sellers with her own Duo-Art accompaniment.

"Valse," "Arabesque" Dr. Thomas. "Your Just a Flower From an Old Bouquet," "Call Me No More," "Water of Minnetonka," "Loves in My Heart" Miss Sellers, with Duo-Art accompaniment of Corinne Waterson, Frank LaForge, and Eleanor Shaw.

A shorter program was given at the assembly Wednesday morning to the student body and a large number of visitors. The program was: "Sonata Pathétique," Dr. Thomas. "Morning," "Danny Boy," and "Don't be What You Ain't," Miss Sellers. "Waltz in A Flat" Dr. Thomas, "By the Waters of Minnetonka" Miss Sellers. Miss Sellers sang to her own Duo-Art accompaniment.

The Duo-Art reproducing mechanism is a new invention in the field of piano reproduction. It reproduces accurately the touch, interpretation and feeling of the pianist. A record can be completed within three minutes after the piece has been played. The instrument used for this concert was a rich-toned Steinway grand, valued at $4500.

Dean Ella L. Moulton, dean of women at the Northern State Teachers College of Aberdeen South Dakota, and a former instructor of S. T. C. writes in The Exponent:

"Students come to college primarily for study. But hand in hand with studies go some non-academic activities that will very greatly enrich one's college life and interests and friendships—activities that one cannot afford to disregard. A girl gets the most by giving her best. Affiliates with some activity on your campus. Limit your number by not going beyond the degree to which you can be a real contributing member. You take away from your college the best she has to give if you have given her your best both in the classroom and in her organizations."

Jan Chiapusso, one of the foremost concert pianists of our time, played before a large, appreciative audience at the State Teachers College of Aberdeen, South Dakota. The Exponent says: "The piano seemed to speak under the fingers of Jan Chiapusso. At first the vibrant tones of the compositions of old masters were with us. Then the program changed to the haunting numbers of Chopin. "Jan Chiapusso is a true artist and shows absolute mastery of the keys. His final number, the great "Tann-häuser Overture" by Wagner-Liszt brought the program to a great and successful climax. In this number there were three different movements and melodies going at the same time. The program was outstanding in itself, and performed with outstanding ability."

"The Fool" was played at Rockford College, Ill. "To know the religion of a nation, examine its theatres. And here is a definitely Christian play, uncovering the shallowness of a church and its congregation, with a strong man attempting to prove whether or not successfully, that the Christ life is possible and practical," says the "Purple Parrot."

Rockford College did not forget the poor, when they celebrated Thanksgiving. The students through the Social Service Club prepared Thanksgiving baskets. Each basket contained meat, vegetables, butter, bread, home canned fruit, and milk. The baskets were delivered Wednesday so that the food could be used for Thanksgiving dinner.

The annual meeting of the West Virginia Inter-Collegiate Press Association held its meeting at Morris Harvey College, November 25. Twelve West Virginia college papers were represented.

The Parthenon of Huntington West Virginia says: "Unprecedented increases in enrollment of students are overwhelming the universities of the United States and bringing them near the saturation point in number of young people who may go to college."

For the first time in 239 years, Harvard had to limit its freshman class to 1,000 this fall. This is equal to Harvard's total enrollment fifty years ago. Yale restricted its freshmen to 850 though it had applications for 1,000—Vassar and Wellesley are struggling to keep their enrollment down to the predetermined limit.

Using a plan originated by Mr. Matthew S. Spencer, director of the University of Washington school of journalism, the students of his journalism class are able to buy a small newspaper and not only receive practical experience in running it, but are able to pay or help pay their way through school. Under this plan the students buy shares in the newspaper and becomes manager and later has a chance to buy it all.

OPEN FORUM

The "Open Forum" is suffering from want of news. Will you help the suffering? The associate editor should receive a "car load" of articles every week for publication from such a student body, whose interest undoubtedly are diversified and who differ in ways of thinking on pertinent issues.

There are many sources for Open Forum articles. Bits of conversation that would amuse others could be transformed into a very humorous article. Basketball gossip would furnish interesting news for sport followers. Library activities furnish abundant material for some ambitious journalist. For instance, if you are annoyed in the library by conversationalists, "Tell 'em" about it in black and white in the Open Forum.

We will certainly appreciate your help and co-operation in making this column successful in the future. Faculty members are not barred from expressing their opinions in this volume.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Miss Hudson, B. S. 1921, secretary to President Lamkin, has returned to the office after a two weeks vacation. Part of her vacation was spent in Kansas City, where she was the guest of Mary West, B. S., A. B., 1924, and also of Miss Katherine Schenk, a former resident of Maryville.

The Eldorado, Illinois High School won the Southern Illinois football championship this year. Earl Bland, formerly known as "Jack" B. S. 1922, is the coach of the successful team. Their final championship game was played with Harrisburg on Thanksgiving day before a crowd of 4000 football fans and the game ended with a score of 10-0.

The Eldorado Daily Journal pays the following tribute to Mr. Bland: "To Coach Bland and his warriors, all honor is due. They have put Eldorado on the map by playing a hard schedule to a successful finish, without a single defeat to mar the record.

"Here's to you, Coach Bland and the team of '24. In years to come we can still look back and remember the pride of this Thanksgiving Day."

Juanita Miller, B. S. 1924, and Harold James Smith, a former S. T. C. student were married Friday evening, December 5, at seven o'clock, at the Frances Street Methodist Church in St. Joseph, Mo., by the Rev. Mr. Caskey. Mr. Smith is employed in the electrical department of the Western Tablet Company in St. Joseph.

PHILO NOTES.

Because of a misunderstanding three of the debaters, who were scheduled to debate the question, "Resolved That the United States Should Enter the Court of International Justice," were not notified of their part on the program until too late for them to participate. However the remaining three "did their stuff" and the society enjoyed a short but spirited debate. Those debating were: Affirmative Guy Canady, Negative, Mae Sturm Day Carr.

The remainder of the program consisted of the rendition of two preludes on the piano by Louise Wright and the vocal solo "My Laddie," by Oma Ross accompanied by Clytie Hackett.

A short business session was held after the program at which two dollars worth of Christmas seals were purchased, some new members were voted in and one new member signed up.

The last program before the holidays is the Christmas program. It will songs. Each member will answer roll call by naming a gift for father, mother, brother or sister.

The initiation party will be held some time in January.

NEWMAN CLUB NOTES.

The Newman Club elected the following officers in their meeting Tuesday:

President: Nellie Halasey.
Vice President: Joseph Graves.
Secretary: Mae Sturm.
Treasurer: Alice Lawler.

Sergeant at Arms: Frances Parlo. Plans were made to hold a contest within the society, the object being to get 100 per cent present at meetings. Mae Sturm and Leo Halasey were chosen as group captains. The losers in this contest will entertain the winners.

NORTHWEST MISSOURI HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS.

The Excelsior Springs High School students worked out themes on the health movement recently. So vital is the question of health, that a nation wide movement is being made to further its improvement. Dr. Curtis as Missouri's state director has adopted a health program. Excelsior Springs has put in full time physical education courses for the first time.

BENTON.

Benton High School held a county fair, December 5. Each class had charge of one stunt and competition was high as a prize of three dollars was offered for the best one. The high school orchestra made its first public appearance at the fair. The orchestra played for the vaudeville.

National Education Week was sponsored by the Journalism class at Benton High School. Each morning questionnaires relating to that particular day were given to the home, room, representatives, who read them in each first period class and on the following day submitted the correct answers to the group.

November 21, the journalism class had charge of the assembly. A tableau divided into five scenes, depicting each day in the National Education Week, was given in order to convey the importance of the week to the student body.

The volley ball season closed November 19 with Benton High School girls winning the city championship. The first game was 15-10, Central; second game, 15-10, Benton; third game 15-7, Benton.

MOUND CITY.

Basket ball practice began last week at Mound City. About sixteen boys will try for a place on the team. The first game will be with Creston, December 19.

HOPKINS.

Hopkins High School debating team won from Tarkio High School team Monday evening, December 8. The question was, "Resolved: That the Philippine Islands should be granted immediate independence." Hopkins had the side of the negative, Tarkio the affirmative.

WESTBORO.

"The basket ball season has started off with a rush in W. H. S.," says the Westboro High School Flyer. Enough men for five squads responded to Coach Glover's call. They are all working to make the first team. The girls' basket ball teams have begun their practice under the direction of Coach Fannie Blacklock.

LIBERTY.

Liberty's debating team defeated Cowgill's team at Liberty Tuesday evening, December 2. Liberty took the negative side of the question.

ROSENDALE.

The hospitality of S. T. C. during the recent boys' basket-ball tournament seems to have been greatly appreciated. A few days after the tournament President Lamkin received the following letter from Rosendale High School team:

Dear Mr. Lamkin:
We the R. H. S. Basket Ball Team, wish to thank you for your effort which made it possible for us to be the guests of the college last week.

We appreciate the privilege of attending the Maryville-Tarkio football game; the hospitality of the homes to which we were assigned, the services of the Chamber of Commerce in meeting us and conducting us to our rooms; the many other things that were done to make the tournament enjoyable.

We think that all high school students are greatly benefited by these trips to the college as this gives us a chance to see college life and instill in us a desire to get a higher education.

Our trips will always remain with us as one of our most delightful memories.

Yours most sincerely,
Maurice Chapman,
Curtiss Nickels,
Boyd Mackey,
Redmond Davison,
Warren L. Mar,
